Biography

Michael H. Galex is approaching 30 years' experience as a trial and appellate general practitioner throughout Florida's state and federal court system. Before joining Fields Howell, Michael was a partner at his previous firm for thirteen years. He brings to Fields Howell an extensive background in first-party property and third-party insurance coverage and liability matters.

Throughout his career, Michael has achieved many favorable outcomes and opinions for his clients. He handles dependency, criminal, and civil cases and appeals across the state of Florida, including property, products liability, commercial general liability, commercial litigation, and more. Michael has been acknowledged by his peers, having earned an AV rating from Martindale-Hubbell®.

Michael also has experience relating to matters of art and antiques, such as disputes arising from appraisals and titles. In his article My View: Getting What You Bargain For: A Buyer's Guide to Purchasing Art, he points out some of the important legal considerations in an art transaction.

Prior to joining private practice, Michael worked as an Assistant State Attorney with the Miami-Dade County State Attorney's Office. In this role, he investigated and prosecuted thousands of criminal trial and appellate matters while representing the State of Florida in a wide variety of cases ranging from minor traffic violations to serious felony offenses requiring life imprisonment.

Michael earned his Juris Doctor in 1995 with honors from Chicago-Kent College of Law after completing undergraduate studies at the University of Wisconsin-Madison.
