Biography

Ricardo Gilb is an attorney based in Atlanta, Georgia.

Ricardo began his legal career in his hometown of El Paso, Texas, as a law clerk to Senior District Judge David Briones, who oversaw a docket of civil, criminal, and immigration matters. Ricardo then gained experience in commercial, injury, civil rights, and employment law at two mid-sized firms in Atlanta before joining Fields Howell.

He earned a bachelor's degree in American Studies at Stanford University and was a teacher or several years before attending the University of Texas School of Law, where he received his J.D. in 2020. In law school he was a proud member of the Chicano Hispanic Law Students Association, Legislative Assistant for the Texas House of Representatives, a student attorney with the Travis County Juvenile Public Defender, and a judicial intern in the District of Columbia.
