Pedro J. Collazo specializes in insurance defense and civil litigation. He joined the firm in 2019 after gaining experience in insurance coverage, premises liability, motor vehicle defense, directors & officers, and other niche practice areas at a Miami-based law firm.

Prior to, and while attending, law school, Pedro worked in the financial industry, spending nearly a decade as a registered principal in the Miami area. He excelled at Florida International University College of Law's evening program, graduating third in his class and becoming a program ambassador, all while continuing his former career in finance. Since completing his law degree, he has worked as a litigation associate and of-counsel in Miami.

Pedro earned his Juris Doctor cum laude in 2015. Prior to completing his law degree, he earned his B.B.A. in finance, including certificates in banking and international bank management, from Florida International University in December 2005.
